

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH DAKOTA – CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY TRAINING PROGRAM

Position Announcement

Assistant Professor, Clinical Psychology

The University of South Dakota, Psychology Department seeks candidates for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor within its APA accredited Ph.D. Program in Clinical Psychology to begin Fall 2023. The University seeks faculty skilled in the scholarship of teaching and the discovery, application, and integration of knowledge.

Successful candidates will demonstrate an ability to lead an active research program, teach graduate and undergraduate courses, mentor student research, and supervise clinical training. This position will include the direct training and supervision of graduate students in an APA accredited Health Service Psychology Program. All areas of research expertise will be considered. Teaching assignments will include graduate coursework in personality and cognitive assessment, undergraduate and graduate personality theory. Applicants with an interest in rural mental health or disaster psychology are particularly encouraged to apply.

- Qualifications: Ph.D. from an APA-accredited clinical psychology program, completion of an APA-accredited internship, and readiness for licensure (post-doctoral supervision may be provided).
- Salary/Compensation: This is a 9-month position, salary commensurate with qualifications and experience.
- Application Deadline: Review of completed applications will begin December 15th 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

Applications must be submitted online at <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu/postings/31664> and should include:

1) a cover letter explaining interest in the position, 2) a current vita, 3) a statement of teaching and research interests, 4) names and contacts of at least three references. Additional information may be requested of finalists for the position.

Questions about the position may be addressed to:

Chair, Clinical Psychology Search Committee

Department of Psychology

The University of South Dakota

414 E. Clark St.

Vermillion, SD 57069

605 658 3700 or psychology@usd.edu (website: www.usd.edu/psychology)

About the University of South Dakota. USD is a doctoral-granting public institution that enrolls more than 10,000 students in five schools and colleges including Arts and Sciences, Education, Fine Arts, Law and Medicine. Located in Vermillion, SD along the Missouri River, USD is less and an hour from two metropolitan areas (Sioux Falls, SD and Sioux City, IA). USD has a special commitment to building strong relationships with the 13 tribal communities within our state and region. The Department of Psychology is home to two undergraduate majors (Psychology and Neuroscience) and two graduate programs (Clinical Psychology and Human Factors Psychology). The clinical training program also houses the Disaster Mental Health Institute, which delivers an undergraduate minor, a graduate track within Clinical Psychology, and a graduate certificate in Disaster Mental Health Response.

The University of South Dakota is committed to fostering a dynamic and welcoming working and learning environment for all. USD provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to ideological, political, or sectarian opinions or perspectives; or race, color, creed, religion, sex, ancestry, disability, national origin or any other factor protected by applicable federal, state, or local laws. USD is committed to the principles of free expression and encourages the timely and rational discussion of topics in an environment that is intellectually and ideologically diverse.